Metallic spherical objects captured in burst photos over Paris sky; moved rapidly and changed position.

On May 1, 2023, around 3:39 PM in Paris (15th district), I took a burst of 20 photos in one second at Parc Georges Brassens. Later, I discovered several metallic gray spheres appearing in different positions in each frame, showing extremely rapid movement. The objects had no wings, trails, or visible propulsion. Photos and metadata confirm authenticity (Xiaomi Red Note 9 Pro). The phenomenon lasted about one second and was not visible to the naked eye at the moment. The event was later analyzed and reported to French authorities and GEIPAN.
